TALK OF THE TOWN

Mary MacLaren, the Scotch lassie, in "The Mysterious Mrs. M." at the Bijou to-day—adv.

Henry Taylor, who has been spending several days with relatives in Barre, returned this morning to his work in New-Ark, N. J.

Mrs. W. E. Mitiguy of Enosburg Falls is passing several days with her mother, Mrs. Margaret McCarty of Brook street. Mr. Mitiguy, who passed Easter in Barre, has returned to his home.

Harley N. Newton of Rutland returned to his home last evening after a business visit of a few days in the quarry district. While in this vicinity, Mr. Newton stayed with relatives on Seminary street.

A regular meeting of the I. O. O. F., M. U., will be held Friday evening, April 13, at the Knights of Columbus hall. The meeting will commence at 8:45 o'clock, with invited guests to assemble at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. E. A. Bugbee of Orange street was advised to-day of the death of her brother-in-law, C. L. M. Bugbee of Newport, which occurred in Pasadena, Cal. The deceased was for many years a prominent jeweler in Newport and left for California some weeks ago for the benefit of his health. He was a brother of the late E. A. Bugbee, a Barre granite manufacturer.

Members of Minnehaha encampment, No. 2, to the number of 35, journeyed to East Barre last evening in five loads to visit the regular meeting and witness the degree work of Winona lodge, No. 10. After the regular meeting, six candidates were initiated in the lodge, the Winona town working the degree. A supper, served by a committee from Winona lodge, was enjoyed by the visiting members after the degree work was completed.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Clarence Bartlett of Glenwood avenue, who recently suffered a fracture of the shoulder bone while working in the stone-shed, is recovering steadily.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Fraser, former residents of Barre, who have been passing some time in Michigan, where the former has been employed in an automobile factory, are back in the city for a sojourn in the home of James Massie of Maple avenue.

John T. Callaghan contributed his bit to the scenes of merriment, etc., enacted at the session of the House of Representatives late last night. Around 11 o'clock P. M. Corry entered the chamber of representatives with Mr. Callaghan in tow and from the speaker's desk, the local entertainer gave of his repertoire of singing and dialogue specialties. Most Barre people who attended and participated in the session did not return home until 3 o'clock this morning.

Fear of an infantile paralysis outbreak in the family of Angus McDonald, secretary of the Central Labor union, was relieved this noon when Dr. Taylor of Burlington, a representative of the state board of health, after spending the forenoon with an afflicted child in the McDonald home, expressed his opinion that it is not a case of poliomyelitis. The child, a boy of five years, was taken ill Sunday. A physician was called at his home on Brook street and afterwards Health Officer J. V. Stewart was notified. Paralysis appeared to be developing in the lad's lower limbs and yesterday, as a precautionary measure, the house was quarantined. The state board of health was notified this morning Dr. Taylor arrived to make an investigation. To-day he reviewed the symptoms and after a careful investigation he stated to Dr. Stewart that, in his opinion, the child is not a victim of infantile paralysis.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Wilson of West street are in receipt of a telegram from Augusta, Me., stating that their son, John C. Wilson, Jr., who went to Augusta a few days ago to submit to an operation at the Augusta General hospital, was resting very comfortably and the operation was considered successful. Mr. Wilson underwent an operation last fall at the Augusta hospital, and has been in poor health since that time, the operation being unsuccessful, and has been at home resting a greater part of the time since then. His condition last week warranted his being removed to the institution immediately. Mr. Wilson will be known in Barre as a former night clerk and bell hop at the Hotel Barre, he having been employed there about two years.

W. M. Fogg, an employee of C. M. Seaver & Co. in Williamstown, is confined to the house with a leg fracture as the result of a peculiar accident which happened Tuesday forenoon. Over night a large cement platform owned by the town was blown over by the wind and lay in the highway in front of the company's grain plant. Shortly before noon Mr. Fogg, accompanied by Mr. Fogg, George Colby and C. R. Dutton, went into the street with the intention of removing the platform from the road. A high wind was blowing and just as the men got the platform in a perpendicular position, a particularly violent gust snatched it from their grasp. Messrs. Seaver, Colby and Dutton managed to reach the safety zone, but Fogg was struck on the leg by the platform as it fell. Dr. A. A. Cross was called and after the man had been removed to his home it was ascertained that he had sustained a fracture of the right leg just above the ankle. The injured man has a large family and among his acquaintances much sympathy is expressed for him in his misfortune.

Mrs. Orlando Robinson of 39 Miles block received severe burns about her hands and arms last evening, while preparing supper. With a few leisure moments, while Mr. Robinson was at a store, after groceries, she started to clean a pair of kid gloves with gasoline, and putting them on her hands put the gasoline until the gloves were well saturated with the oil, and started to turn out the blaze of the gas range, when the fire followed from the range to her gloves, setting them in a mass of flame, and before she could get into the hall for help, the flesh on her hands was badly burned. A woman whom she met in the hall pulled the blazing gloves from her hands before the fire caused any further damage. Dr. Wark was immediately summoned to dress the wounds and found the skin so burned that it peeled from the flesh on both hands to about half way to the elbow. Mrs. Robinson is still in great pain, but the burns are doing as well as can be expected.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to thank the friends and neighbors for their many acts of kindness and words of sympathy during the long illness of our sister and aunt, also for the beautiful flowers.

Mrs. Flora Field,
Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Lane,
Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Field.

Mrs. Louis Brusa of Blackwell street returned to her home yesterday after accompanying Mrs. Charles Rusconi of High Holborn street to Winoski, where she underwent an operation at the Fanny Allen hospital. Friends of Mrs. Rusconi will be glad to learn that she is as comfortable as can be expected.

Seventy-five people gathered at the sugar social held at the Baptist church last evening under the auspices of the Barre class and there enjoyed a maple sugar party menu of sugar, doughnuts and pickles. The supper proved to be very successful and a tidy sum was cleared above the expenses of the supper. The food was served under the supervision of a committee with Louis Jones acting as chairman.

Among the guests arriving at Hotel Barre last night and this morning were the following people: J. A. Greenwood of Chester, H. D. Sparrow of Bellows Falls, P. O. Gray of Colchester, N. J., John O. Barndale of Burlington, W. C. McGinnis of North Troy, Dr. Haylett of Burlington, C. K. Manning of Worcester, C. C. Hamblett of Barton, H. W. Clay of Burlington and Charles M. Hart of Hartford.

The man from Baltimore whose strange actions were brought to the notice of the police, the city charity department and City hospital nurses, as well as attaches at Hotel Barre, where he registered upon his arrival here Tuesday, left yesterday for Burlington, where he said he expected to be among friends. Wherever he travels in Barre or Montpelier he complained loudly of illness and several times seemed to be on the point of collapse. Twice he was taken to hospitals in this city and Montpelier, but he tarried only a few moments in either institution and was back on the street. Yesterday when he persisted in pestering the police he was given an opportunity to leave the city with an alternative of being locked up. He left.

THE UNION DRY GOODS COMPANY

TALK OF THE TOWN

A unique exhibition in which the multitudinous processes employed in hat making are shown is displayed in the south window at the store of the Union Clothing Co. The exhibit was loaned by the Aetna Hat Co., and the passerby whose attention is arrested by the arrangement of hats in all stages of manufacture will obtain a new idea of the industry. Stiff hats and soft hats, in fact most every variety of headgear, are shown in the window.

WILLIAMSTOWN

William S. Crane and sister, Miss Katherine Crane, of Randolph were in town on the 7th inst. to bring the remains of their mother, Mary Ann Crane, for burial in the family lot in the village cemetery. Mrs. Crane was born in town something over 91 years ago, and was the daughter of William Smith, better known to our older townspeople as "Captain Bill Smith," who lived on the farm now owned by John McKenzie, in the neighborhood of the Norman Davis farm. Her husband, Joseph Crane, who died many years ago, was descended from one of the oldest families in town, and was a brother of the late George Crane, for many years a prominent citizen of this town and later owner of the saw and grist mill in Brookfield. The son mentioned, William S. Crane, has lived for 39 years in South America. A niece of the deceased, Miss Mary Upham of Worcester, Mass., was the third member of the party.

George P. Frost, who has been in Peabody, Mass., for the past three months, has returned to town and is staying at Charles U. Sivright's.

Leon T. Thurber is just now employed as pressman in the office of the Northfield News.

Members of Charity chapter, No. 57, O. E. S., please remember the special meeting Friday evening, April 13, at 7:30. Work and refreshments.

About one o'clock on Monday night, Rev. William N. Roberts discovered his new 18x45-foot poultry house to be on fire and the flames had made such headway that nothing could be saved. The building was put up last fall, and though not fully completed, was used for hens, and also contained over one hundred chickens, many of which would weigh half a pound apiece. The fire was caused by the explosion of the brooder lamp. This comes to Mr. and Mrs. Roberts as a very serious loss, as they were planning for quite an extensive poultry plant.

The members of the Agenda class will meet with Mrs. Fred Alger on Friday evening, April 13. The recent fire that destroyed the poultry house of Rev. W. N. Roberts would seem to give a good reason for the statement lately made by the agent of the mutual companies of Montpelier, that the companies he represents not only do not give any permits for the use of brooders in buildings insured by them, but that the use of brooders in such buildings invalidates the insurance, and that in case of loss resulting from fire caused by brooders, no claims for insurance will be paid. George T. Colby has gone to Canada to buy stock.
